Q1 Case study: Answer the following. 12

Classic Motors manufactures petrol-based two-wheelers. With rising fuel prices and increasing demand for eco-friendly transport, the company is facing pressure. Competitors like Ola Electric and Ather Energy are launching electric scooters. Classic Motors conducts a SWOT analysis:

- Strengths: Established brand, strong dealer network.
- Weaknesses: Outdated R&D, dependence on petrol bikes.
- Opportunities: Rising demand for e-bikes, government incentives.
- Threats: Intense competition, changing customer preferences.

They also apply PESTLE analysis and realize government subsidies and technological advancements favour electric vehicles. Management is considering whether to continue petrol bikes or invest heavily in e-bikes (corporate-level strategy).
